DRAW A DETAIL FROM 3 OF THE EVENTS:

1. Eugene Williams was innocently caught in conflicts that were happening on the beach. Could something like this happen today? How so?

2. Was there anything in this that surprised you?

3. Today, “fake news” is something that is talked about a lot because on social media anyone can present anything as fact. Much of this fake news plays on people’s fears. How was this situation escalated by false reporting?

4. The people on the beach had reached their breaking point where they were no longer willing to put up with the segregated beaches and they demanded justice for the murder of Eugene Williams. Has there ever been a time in your life where you haven’t been able to put up with something that was unfair any longer? What did you do?

5. What are some of the emotions that people are having on this day?
